

A.I. for Unlimited Low Content Products

Feel free to share this special report on your blog, to your email list, groups, etc.

Please just respect all community guidelines and ethics when you do.

Here's a special invitation from to join the ultimate resource for creating all types of content.

The purpose of this report is to give you the skills to use Artificial Intelligence and other resources to create lots of high-quality, low content products as quickly, easily and inexpensively as possible.

The marketing “gurus” offer you just a handful of prompts. However, you’ll soon discover how to create prompts for AI that will give you the ability to create 1000s more prompts.

Low content products are basically items that don't have a lot of words or text in them. They're usually things like coloring books, journals, or notebooks where the main attraction is the design or layout rather than loads of written stuff.

(See below for a big list of ideas for a variety of types of low content products.)

The reality is you probably aren't going to make much money with a single low content product. To be successful, you will likely need to have dozens of products.

So instead of over-charging you for a few prompts, we've put together this guide to give you the basic skills to become a low content product creation factory.

Some examples of popular low content products that you can create, and sell are planners, journals, and checklists. See below for many more possibilities.

How to Use A.I. to Easily Generate a Super-Abundance of Ideas for Low Content Products

I gave ChatGPT this simple prompt:

Make a list of 100 ideas for niche planners

To save space, here's a shortened list of the first 20 results ChatGPT gave:

1. Travel itinerary planner	7. Budget and expense tracker	12. Parenting and baby milestone tracker	17. Event and party planning organizer
2. Wedding planner	8. Personal development and goal-setting planner	13. Pet care and health tracker	18. Project management and task tracker
3. Fitness and workout tracker	9. Meditation and mindfulness journal	14. Hobby and crafting project planner	19. Fashion and wardrobe organizer
4. Meal planning and recipe organizer	10. Book reading and review planner	15. Daily gratitude journal	20. Weather and outdoor activity planner
5. Gardening planner	11. Language learning and study planner	16. Business and entrepreneurial planner

Of course, not all the results will be practical, but you'll easily get more than enough ideas to start your low content product empire.

Next, I gave it this prompt:

Expand on #1 and format it so that it will neatly create a printable planner

ChatGPT gave me this:

Certainly! Here's an expanded description of the "Travel Itinerary Planner," along with a formatted template for a printable planner page:

Travel Itinerary Planner

Description:

The Travel Itinerary Planner is designed to help you meticulously plan and organize your trips, ensuring you make the most of your travel experiences. Whether you're jet-setting across the globe or embarking on a weekend getaway, this planner will assist you in creating a comprehensive travel itinerary.

Key Features:

1. Trip Overview: Start by filling in essential details like the destination, trip dates, and the purpose of your travel.
2. Accommodation: Record your lodging information, including the hotel name, address, contact details, and reservation confirmation number.
3. Transportation: Keep track of your transportation arrangements, such as flight details, train schedules, rental car information, or public transportation options.
4. Activities and Attractions: Plan your daily activities and sightseeing adventures. List the attractions you want to visit, their opening hours, admission fees, and any tour or activity bookings.
5. Dining: Make reservations at restaurants or jot down recommendations for local eateries you'd like to try. Note dietary preferences or restrictions.
6. Budget: Create a budget for your trip and monitor your expenses. Record expenditures for accommodation, transportation, food, entertainment, and souvenirs.
7. Packing Checklist: Prepare a comprehensive packing list, ensuring you don't forget any essential items. Categorize items by clothing, toiletries, electronics, travel documents, and more.
8. Emergency Information: Note down important emergency contact numbers, travel insurance details, and the contact information of your embassy or consulate.
9. Notes and Reminders: Use this section to jot down additional notes, reminders, or tips from fellow travelers or online resources.
10. Map Section: Include a small map section where you can mark the locations of your planned activities, hotels, and restaurants for easy reference.

The results just need a little formatting, and your results may vary, but with a quick “find and replace” for some of the characters such as this is already the foundation of a very good travel itinerary planner.

I also gave ChatGPT this prompt:

Write a list of 100 profitable niches for low content books

It returned 100 results. Again, to save space, here’s just a few of the example results:

Journals: <ul style="list-style-type: none">- Gratitude journals- Self-reflection journals	Coloring Books: <ul style="list-style-type: none">- Mandala coloring books- Animal coloring books- Adult coloring books	Activity Books: <ul style="list-style-type: none">- Sudoku puzzle books- Crossword puzzle books	Education: <ul style="list-style-type: none">- Math practice books- Language learning workbooks

Then all you do is choose a suggestion and have ChatGPT expand on it by telling it something like:

Expand on “Pets” and write a list of 100 profitable niches for low content products about pets and animals.

These ChatGPT prompts in combination will multiply your results giving you heaps of low content ideas.

Discover 1000s More Low Content Ideas Using Keyword Sheeter

<https://keywordsheeter.com>

Another method for finding tons and tons of ideas for low content products is to use Keyword Sheeter. Enter a seed word into Keyword Sheeter and it will “sheet” 100s and even 1000s of keywords it scrapes from Google containing the seed keyword.

All the keywords won’t be relevant, but what Sheeter lacks in quality it more than makes up for in quantity.

For example, I entered “checklist” into Sheeter and here’s a very small selection of the results it gave:

checklist template checklist manifesto checklist for moving checklist maker checklist in word checklist app checklist for moving out of state checklist for international travel checklist for camping checklist for traveling	checklist template word checklist of national parks checklist after death of parent checklist after death of parent pdf checklist app iphone checklist app for windows checklist app android	checklist app free checklist after buying a house checklist app for mac checklist after spouse dies checklist after selling house checklist after death checklist after death of spouse checklist after marriage	checklist book checklist before accepting job offer checklist before leaving on vacation checklist before marriage checklist before traveling checklist before international travel checklist online checklist assessment

In Keyword Sheeter, try adding a secondary keyword like:

<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Checklist for • Checklist about 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Checklist of • Checklist with

Of course, you can (and probably should) substitute “checklist” with many of the other possibilities for low content products.

One of the results I saw was “Checklist for College Application” which I used for a prompt to give ChatGPT, which gave this result. I removed some of the formatting of the results for this report:

Platforms for Selling Your Low Content Products

Kindle Direct Publishing (KDP)	Barnes & Noble Press
Etsy	LuLu
RedBubble	IngramSpark
LuLu Direct	Blurb
Sellfy	PublishDrive

Kindle Direct Publishing (KDP) is the largest platform where you can sell your low content products. You can think of it as a place where you upload your designs, and then Amazon helps turn them into real books that people can buy online, either as digital Kindle books or as physical paperbacks.

You should probably primarily focus on KDP, but also be sure to experiment with some of the other platforms.
